Occupational Employment Statistics Survey

The Occupational Employment Statistics (OES) Program provides staffing patterns, employment estimates and occupational wage rates. These occupational employment and wage estimates are calculated with data collected from employers in all industry sectors in Rhode Island. They are the basis for Rhode Island's Occupational Wage Report and Rhode Island industry and occupational projections.

Can't find time for more paperwork? Call the OES staff at 401-462-8750. They will take your information over the telephone and complete the questionnaire for you! The economic data we provide depends on the information you supply!

Introduction

The Labor Market Information Unit is pleased to present the Rhode Island Occupational Wage Report. This publication provides estimated wage rates for over 550 detailed occupations, as defined by the Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) system. The statistics are based on responses from Rhode Island establishments surveyed for the 2017 Occupational Employment Statistics (OES) survey.

The OES survey is a federal-state cooperative program involving the State Employment Security Agencies and the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. It was developed in response to demands for data on future employment needs at the local, state and national level. The Occupational Employment Statistics (OES) Program provides staffing patterns, employment estimates and occupational wage rates. These occupational employment and wage estimates are calculated with data collected from employers in all industry sectors in Rhode Island. They are the basis for Rhode Island's Occupational Wage Report and Rhode Island industry and occupational projections.

The published wage rates reflect the average wage paid by RI employers to the individuals employed in each occupation during 2017 and do not represent union or company pay scales. Annual salary is provided for occupations with a non-standard work week.

For the purposes of this publication "RI workers" refers to individuals working for an employer in RI. Workers need not be RI residents. Not all RI residents are employed in RI.

Our wage survey provides a median, entry level and experienced wage for each occupation. The median is the middle value of the wage distribution. If 101 wage values are reported for an occupation and are listed in ascending order, the median wage would be the 51st value on the list. There are 50 values below it and 50 values above it.

The first and third quartiles are used as proxies for the entry and experienced wage levels respectively. The quartiles are determined by arranging all reported wage rates for each occupation in order from highest to lowest. The rate at which 25 percent of the reported wage rates falls below is the first quartile. The rate at which 75 percent of the reported wage rates falls below is the third quartile.

Thank You

We wish to express our appreciation to all those employers who responded to the Occupational Employment Statistics (OES) Survey. Their support enables the Department of Labor and Training (DLT) to continue with its mission to provide valuable occupation and wage information. Without them this publication would not be possible.

Standard Occupational Classification

The Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) system is a system for classifying all occupations in the economy including private, public, and military occupations. SOC is the foundation of the O-NET system and is used by all federal statistical agencies to classify workers into occupational categories for the purpose of collecting, calculating, or disseminating data.

The occupations in the SOC are classified at four levels of aggregation to suit the needs of various data users: major group, minor group, broad occupation, and detailed occupation. Each lower level of detail identifies a more specific group of occupations. The 23 major groups, listed below, are divided into 97 minor groups, 461 broad occupations, and 840 detailed occupations.
